Choose love. Be the light. Change the world.

From the Pastor “Collective Talents”

By Rev. Alex Lang

As a sophomore in high school, I was a struggling student. Unable to cut it in many of the advanced classes, I had dropped down into the easier, regular classes. The only advanced class that remained on my schedule was third year Latin. For the prior two years of Latin, we had focused on learning vocabulary and grammar. During the third year, we left behind the practice sentences of our grammar book and started translating real Latin.

Our focus was Cicero, a lawyer who served as Roman Consul in 63 BC. During his year in office, Cicero discovered a conspiracy to assassinate him and overthrow the Roman Republic with the aid of foreign armed forces. The person responsible for leading the coup was a Roman Senator, Lucius Sergius Catilina. Once Cicero became aware of the conspiracy, he requested an audience before the Roman Senate and gave an impassioned speech accusing Catilina and his allies of conspiring to overthrow the government.

This speech became known as the “Catiline Address” and it is considered by some to be the best extemporaneous speech of all time. Over a period of five months, we translated this speech 5-7 sentences at a time. By the time we finished, it was clear to us why Cicero is considered one of the greatest orators in history. His ability to construct phrases using alliteration, metaphor and similes, all off of the top of his head, was remarkable!

When we had finished translating his speech, our Latin teacher gave us a new assignment. We had to give a speech like Cicero. We had to choose a topic that was important to us, write a speech using various literary devices, and then give the speech from memory. To say I was deathly afraid of this assignment was an understatement. I had never written a speech or spoken in front of an audience. The fact she was forcing us to memorize the entire thing made my stomach churn.

Nevertheless, I worked hard on my speech and memorized it to the best of my ability. When my turn came to stand before the class, I thought I was going to be sick. I stood up and my legs felt weak. I could barely remember my first word, but as it came out of my mouth, my nerves subsided and everything came into focus. Something about that moment felt right, and unlike many of my peers who stumbled through their speeches, I was confident and able to command the attention of the room.

In that moment I had discovered a talent I did not know I possessed. I had the talent of oratory and I have nurtured that talent ever since. Indeed, one of the reasons why I am your pastor is because I have worked so hard at the craft of preaching sermons. As much as I work hard to bring you quality sermons week after week, my talent of preaching alone is not enough to make our church thrive.

We need the Collective Talents of everyone in the church—both monetary talents, as well as skills and gifts—to make this church flourish. It is all of our talents working together that make this church what it is. This year we are working to exceed our potential both in terms of what we give monetarily to the church and what we give through our skills and talents. This year I'm asking you to invest more of yourself in First Pres.

If you are not already doing so, choose a ministry—give of your gifts and skills. If you cannot give more time, consider more monetary support. If you have never made a commitment before, and need a guide to help you decide what to contribute to the church this year, a great starting point is $35 a week. That comes out to $1,820 for the year for an individual and $3,640 for a couple. Of course, if you can give more, every dollar helps.

When you write down your financial contribution for Commitment Sunday on November 11, I ask that you prayerfully consider how your commitment to First Pres will make a tangible difference in sustaining our congregation, and in turn, the lives of our brothers and sisters who are struggling beyond our walls. Together, our community will use our collective talents to be a beacon of light that spreads God's love to a broken world.

From the October 8, 2018 meeting (continued):

- Stewardship Sunday will be November 11. Letters will be mailed to congregation the previous week. The theme is Collective Talents – Exceeding Our Potential.

From the Music Stand

Enrollment for the BSA Girl Troop is now open! We already have several girls interested in our new Girls Troop, so join the fun and enroll today!

Troop 32 is inviting First Presbyterian Church members, families with girls and boys, ages 11 and older, to contact Troop 32 Scoutmaster, Patrick Painter, at 32scoutmaster@gmail.com, or Chartered Organization Representative, Al Wilson, at alwilson100@comcast.net, to learn more about Family Scouting at First Pres!

Children's Ministries

Sunday School - Looking at Bible Stories in a New Way

The beginning of the program year is an exciting time! We welcomed a great group of Kindergartners to our Sunday School gathering time, and our newly-minted 5th graders love being "the oldest!" Coming together again after summer break gave us an opportunity to share some of our summer experiences and to catch up on the new school year. This time of sharing is important to reconnecting and to feeling part of our Sunday School family.

We are diving into the Bible in new ways this year with our Kindergarten through 5th grade classes. Using a combination of curriculums, both purchased and created in-house, we will spend two weeks on a Bible story. The first week will be spent learning the story and participating in activities related to the story. The second week will be spent applying the theme of the Bible story to our lives. Our first lesson was the creation story. During the first week, we read the story and did some activities related to creation. When we came back to it the second week, each class had a discussion about ways we can take care of our small part of creation – our church. We talked about ways the church handles garbage and recycling, looked at ways we could improve, and gave examples of things we are doing here at First Pres to make positive impacts.

Over the course of this year, we cannot wait to make connections between Bible stories and our everyday lives!

Kids Connect - Connecting Kids Through Fun & Fellowship

What do you call it when you bring a group of kids together on Wednesday night? Kids Connect of course! That is just what's happening here at First Pres – kids are coming together as part of Family Night for a fun evening where they can just be kids! Our gym time encourages participation in games where everyone gets a turn, no one is the best, and winning is not the most important aspect. Our classroom time allows kids to explore their creative side with unique art projects and their analytical side with exciting science experiments and activities.

In addition to these awesome parts of Kids Connect, we are also introducing workshops to our schedule. Over the course of the program year, kids will get to experience yoga, art (taught by a real artist), science (taught by a real scientist), woodworking, cooking, sewing, and American Sign Language. Kids get to choose what they are interested in, what they would like to learn more about, or what they would like to try for the first time. Workshops are an exciting way to allow our program to grow and yet still remain responsive and familiar.

If you have not checked out Family Night yet, mark your calendar for Wednesday evenings – dinner is at 6:00 pm in Fellowship Hall and programming for all ages begins at 7:00 pm. You'll be glad you did!

Sunday School Family Breakfast

On Sunday, October 28, Children's Ministries will be hosting a Family Breakfast for our Sunday School kids and their families. It is sure to be a fun morning of fellowship as we gather in Fellowship Hall to spend time together over pancakes, sausages, and eggs.

Calling All Carolers!

Christmas will be here before you know it! Soon we will be hearing Christmas carols on the radio and in stores. As you enjoy the familiar words and melodies of beloved Christmas carols and hymns, consider sharing the gift of song with others at our all-church caroling event.

Warm up your singing voice and join us in Fellowship Hall on Sunday, December 23, at 4:00 pm. We will divide into groups and head out to Luther Village, the Moorings, and individual homes to share the Christmas spirit with church members and friends who need some Christmas cheer. This event is family-friendly, and is a great way to get involved and meet new people.

At the conclusion of our caroling, we will meet back in Fellowship Hall for a pizza dinner. For more information, please contact Michele Holifield at mkholifield@yahoo.com.

First Pres Playground!

By Katy Allen, Director of Children's Ministries, and Coleen Anzalone, Director of Parents' Day Out

After months of planning, we finally broke ground on our playground in mid-September. It was fascinating to watch the transformation from a parking lot, to hole in the ground, to sidewalk and garden forms, to finally our playground! In addition to a brand new playground that will provide hours of fun for PDO, Sunday school, VBS and other activities, the Children's Ministries Loaves & Fishes garden will have a permanent home within the playground area. This community-type garden helps to provide food for events here at church, Faith Community Homes families, the Wheeling Township Food Pantry, and our own congregation.

A project of this size is truly a collaborative effort. Parents' Day Out and Children's Ministries would like to thank everyone who donated to the various fundraisers that were held in the spring to raise an additional $20,000 for a secure fence around the playground, bollards for additional security, ground cover, benches, and picnic tables.

We can't wait to get outside and play very soon!

Social Justice at First Pres: Stone Catchers

The Mission Committee approved the formation of a new group, Stone Catchers, that will focus on social justice issues. Stone Catchers held its first meeting on October 16. In addition to spending some time getting to know one another, the group shared their thoughts on social justice issues and brainstormed ideas for involvement and what direction the group might take. Through education, action, field trips, speakers, letter writing campaigns, and local activism opportunities, Stone Catchers seeks to reflect Jesus' teachings of mercy and grace.

The name Stone Catchers refers to scripture in the book of John, Chapter 8. In it, a woman was being shamed by a group of Pharisees and Jesus intervened on her behalf. Jesus boldly called for the sinless among them to be the first to throw a stone at the woman. The crowd dispersed at Jesus' words, and the woman was called upon by Jesus to go and sin no more. The idea for the name came from a video featuring Bryan Stevenson, a lawyer, social justice activist, and author. In the video, he calls for Christians to catch stones that are thrown at the disenfranchised, the voiceless, the forgotten among us.

If you are interested in participating in Stone Catchers, please contact Michele Holifield (mkholifield@yahoo.com) or Katy Allen (katyallen357@gmail.com).

Thank You From Christopher House:

Thank you to everyone who made the fundraiser for Christopher House a success! The fundraisers that occurred at the Deer Park and Arlington Heights California Pizza Kitchen locations raised a total of $644.20!

A Light in the Darkness

By Rev. Alex Lang

Every Sunday, during the season of Advent, we light a new candle on our Advent wreath. There are four candles placed along the outside of the wreath and one in the center. Each of these candles represent a theme that is critical to the season of Advent. If you have been in service during Advent, you probably remember that we usually have a family or an individual light the candle(s) as our call to worship.

This year, I have decided to base my Advent sermon series around the themes associated with these candles. The first candle represents hope, the second peace, the third joy, the fourth love and the fifth candle represents Jesus, the light of the world. This particular series is called, "A Light in the Darkness," and the focus is on how we live in a world where evil, malevolence and immorality dominate, and yet God is still able to shine through and overcome the darkness that enshrouds our lives.

The goal of this series is to explore how God makes the divine known to us in ways that we can observe and experience in the world. Each week we will take the theme of that Advent Sunday and attempt to discern the ways in which God's love becomes manifest in our lives. We will be examining how God brings hope in the midst of war and violence; peace in the midst of our chaotic internal lives; joy in the midst of a world focused solely on happiness; love in the midst of lives that often feel meaningless.

Then finally, on Christmas Eve, we will celebrate how Jesus embodies all of these themes because Jesus is where God's light is concentrated the most. I believe it will be a very uplifting and inspiring series that will truly prepare us for how our lives have been changed as the result of the birth of our Lord on Christmas day.

Days of Restoration

On Easter, you heard Rev. Alex talk about our new church initiative, Days of Restoration. To participate in Days of Restoration, sign up via our website to receive an e-mail that provides you with an action that you are to perform the following day. So far there have been some incredible acts of charity and forgiveness. The purpose of these actions is to practice the ethos of sacrifice and restoration. The more we practice these acts of sacrifice and restoration, the better we can achieve the ultimate end of the Christian faith: restoring balance to the world. Read what Larry Olson did when we asked people to write a letter of encouragement to a student in their life.

“I sent a letter to each of my four grandchildren. Megan is a supervisor at a clinic helping teens facing disruptive situations. Brian is employed in marketing/sales. Josh is leaving soon to study in Prague for a semester. Elizabeth begins her freshmen year at the University of Kentucky. Four very easy to write letters recognizing accomplishments with many more to come.” - Larry Olson
